Selection # 2 Psychic Abilities

Psychic was discussed on 77-07-09, the 31st Trance. The word "psychic" was first found on page 444, line 258.

248	: In Trance #12 you state that "psychic abilities are mere
249	mechanical actions of the body." Can you explain how this is a
250	mere physical action? What's the triggering device, etc.?
251	The quote is, "The psychic ability of an individual is a
252	mere mechanical action of the body as is being discovered presently
253	And we wanted to know can you explain how this is a mere
254	physical action and what is the triggering device, etc.?
255
256	C: The bringing into play of the psychic ability is brought
257	about through, shall we say, what is called a short-circuiting
258	of the two lobes of the brain. This is a, shall we say, physical
259	action. If those that have the ability to investigate such
260	things were to attempt to search this out they would begin to see
261	this is a happening that is consistent. Now the short-circuiting
262	which is the mechanical function is brought about not by the
263	physical itself but is brought about by the attitude that is
264	instigated. So then the triggering is nothing but being a physical
265	action that is in reference to the short-circuiting of the right
266	and left lobe of the brain. This short-circuiting is initiated
267	by the attitude of the entity in question or the entity that
268	wishes to manifest the psychic abilities. If one could truly
269	understand the process involved, if one could truly explain it

270	in words that would be understandable, if one would truly try
271	to think out a psychic experience, what one would discover would
272	be a, shall we say, quick flash of the desire to do something
273	psychically. Then there would be the short-circuiting of the
274	two lobes of the brain that would then attune and sensitize the 275	physical for reception. And if one could be so sensitive as to
276	follow this whole process, there would be an instantaneous thought
277	which would trigger the short-circuiting which would become

278 apparent through a, shall we say, snap in the head or an intense 279 expansion feeling and then the information would begin to flow. 280 : But why can't everyone do this? I've wanted and tried 281 282 and nothing ever happens. 283 C: Some have chosen not to really use these natural abilities 284 285 of the soul. And just because you physically feel that you 286 want to do this, does not necessarily mean that deep within 287 your soul you want to.
