

A Lost Parable

A Story of Love and Healing

As told by The Council

in the Trances of William Allen LePar

Published by SOLAR Press
P. O. Box 8878
Canton, Ohio 44711

For more about William LePar and The Council visit - <http://www.WilliamLePar.com>

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced without written permission from the publisher.

Copyright 1989 by SOL Illustrations Copyright 2007 by Don Weisgarber

Dedication

This book is dedicated to all those who seek the truth.

Acknowledgements

Cover design and layout by Mrs. Thelma Latta, Dr. James Ridzon and Mr. Don Weisgarber. Production layout by Mr. David Crookston

Table of Contents

The Awakening	9
An Introduction to The Council	11
The Council Speaks of Themselves	12
A Word about the Parable	13
A Lost Parable: A Story of Love and Healing	20

William Allen LePar

About the Author

William Allen LePar

"The experience of the soul into the physical form, into life, is a profound experience for the soul. This depth of profoundness is not found in the shallow intellect of the mind, but in the wisdom of the heart and soul. Thus every experience in life must be profound whether it be the love that one has for a mate or the love that one friend has for the other.

The sight of a flower or the scent of its fragrance, the tree that is moved by the breeze, the rain that quenches the thirst of the earth, these too are profound experiences of life and soul. The profoundness of nature is as profound and necessary, as is the soul's, for it provides the sustenance for life and demonstrates the beauty of sharing and harmony that brings growth to the soul."

Few men with spiritual gifts for mankind have stood strong against the sweep of history. William Allen LePar will be among them.

For more than 45 years, LePar has set aside his private life to illuminate the path of spiritual awareness and personal growth. By manifesting an extremely rare and deep trance state, he achieves a degree of contact with the spiritual realms unique to and unique for our troubled times. From this level a union of 12 souls known to us as The Council reveals wisdom and warning of unprecedented magnitude. Through the years some 1.5 million words of dialogue between humanity and The Council have been recorded and preserved for those who seek, and will seek in a time to come, to ride the wings of total awareness.

To become the conduit for a spiritual lifeline to mankind was not what LePar wanted or expected in his early years. At least, not consciously. Born into a working class Italian family that still held Old World values, LePar exhibited strong paranormal abilities as a child. Those abilities, however, proved troublesome and young LePar subdued his gifts in order to have a normal childhood.

But that normal life was not to be. In the 1950 s fate teamed LePar with a teenage friend who also possessed potent psychic abilities. In time they were stunning their friends, giving readings at a spiritualist church and exploring their powers. This led one night to a vision so shocking that LePar slammed the door on his inexplicable talents. He threw himself into the goal of normalcy, becoming a machinist in a steel mill and, eventually, meeting and marrying Nancy.

Again, that normal life was not to be. Without warning, or so it seemed, his calm and family-oriented world was turned upside down. The deep, catatonic trances had commenced. It took several turbulent years for him and Nancy to accept, adjust, and finally to offer others the opportunity to talk with and learn directly from the realms beyond.

For a more complete biography on William LePar, The Council and SOL, please visit - www.WilliamLePar.com.

The Awakening

For many decades psychic William Allen LePar has been nationally acclaimed for the array of psychic abilities he exhibits, particularly the Deep Catatonic Trance, a remarkable and rare phenomenon even for the realm of the paranormal.

While in the Deep Catatonic Trance, a gathering of 12 highly evolved spiritual entities known as The Council speak through Mr. LePar, providing our world with an incomparable and abundant supply of spiritual information. More than just a psychic ("a unique and distinct personality in the world of psychic phenomenon," said a professor of psychology from a major university), Mr. LePar has been referred to as a modern mystic by many of those who have encountered him.

Mr. LePar exhibited his psychic abilities quite early in life, but society's traditional reaction to such an unsettling aspect of human potential caused him to repress his gifts until adulthood. A series of unusual events triggered the state of Deep Trance, a dimension Mr. LePar had never before experienced, and he found himself catapulted back into the psychic world. For several years he conducted Deep Trance sessions privately while publicly doing psychometry, inspirational speaking, and psychic counseling.

Convinced that The Council's information held tremendous constructive potential for our troubled world, Mr. LePar in the mid-1970s invited others to share in the experience. SOL, a non-profit organization, was established to handle all aspects of preserving and disseminating the Trance Information. The organization developed a complex computer network to facilitate its duties. The Council delivered well over two million words of material. Among its many responsibilities, SOL coordinated Research Group inquiries into new topics of investigation at Trance sessions, currently operates a speakers' bureau for appearances by SOL Associates, has a membership program that provides participants with library files of verbatim Council transcripts and a frequently updated website - www.WilliamLePar.com.

Through the years, Mr. LePar's presentations on aspects of spiritual and psychic development as well as on The Council's profound information have been enthusiastically received across the country. He was in constant demand, and lectured and led workshops at colleges and universities, and for organizations such as Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship, REST, the Western Reserve Awareness Conference, Star Stream Cosmic Experience, the Human Development Center, and various chapters of Aquarian Age Encounter. The subject of uncounted newspaper and magazine articles, Mr. LePar also appeared on many local and syndicated radio and television shows and permitted television taping of Trance sessions for broadcast.

In addition to his myriad activities, Mr. LePar worked with writers investigating The Council's material and has authored the books Meditation: A Definitive Study, Controlling the Creative Process in You: Androgyny and Life After Death: A New Revelation.

An Introduction to The Council

The Council has often referred to themselves as "spiritual beings." We must remember that this is a very elusive term and can mean something far greater than what we normally have been taught to understand as a "spiritual being."

In our finite minds we look upon spiritual beings as living beings confined in similar manners as we in the physical, and this is not the case with some levels beyond the physical. But in this expanded description of themselves (The Council), we begin to realize that there are levels that we can reach as spiritual beings that far surpass our present concepts.

Respectfully, I submit for your edification The Council's own personal description of themselves.

William Allen LePar

The Council Speaks of Themselves

After a soul or an entity has accomplished a certain level or degree of perfection, through whatever system that is the ruling belief system of that time, then the individual or the soul or the entity is elevated to a level wherein it is not necessary for reincarnation. Once entering the spiritual realms without the need to incarnate, a growth period is undergone. Many steps of awareness or many levels of awareness are accomplished, many degrees of elevation, many degrees of perfection; until finally the soul or the entity has evolved into a state where there are no levels, no degrees, but begins to expand in love and awareness to the point where there is a total mergence or merging with other beings, where all ideas of limitations, all awarenesses of false limitations, have been done away with. Where the person or the soul or the entity then begins to realize its true unlimitedness and in that begins to expand greater and greater and greater, interweaving more delicately and more closely with all others and all other things, and in so doing grows closer to the Divine Himself.

Once a soul or an entity has reached this level, then they are in union with others, total union, yet completely individual, and yet completely united. This soul, this entity, has his own personality, yet delicately flows in and out and with the other souls but yet maintains its own personality, its own being. The soul, the entity, becomes more god-like in that it becomes a part of all things, yet maintains its own personality, its own being.

Once a soul has reached this level, then there is no name, there is no body as you would recognize or understand, but a more complete and unlimited Child of God; one who is so developed that no name could ever describe him.

That is the existence we live in, and if you wish to use confining and restricting terminologies as levels, then we would have to say that is the level we exist in. In all of mankind's history this level has never before spoken in the physical plane.

Even though we refer to ourselves as "spiritual beings," we use such statements only to give all who have come to us some idea to relate to, or some concept that they can relate to.

A Word About the Parable

During one of William Allen LePar's Trances his source, The Council, expressed a desire to repeat the story that appears on the following pages to SOL, a group which records and disseminates the Trance material. The Council indicated that this story would prove to be a source of enlightenment to all who read it.

At a later Trance, when questioned about this story, The Council revealed that it is one of the lost parables, and The Council would make no further comment. The Council then suggested that the greatest value, as with any parable, can be obtained by paying close attention to what is being said beyond the words.

It is, therefore, with great pleasure, that SOL presents for your consideration ...

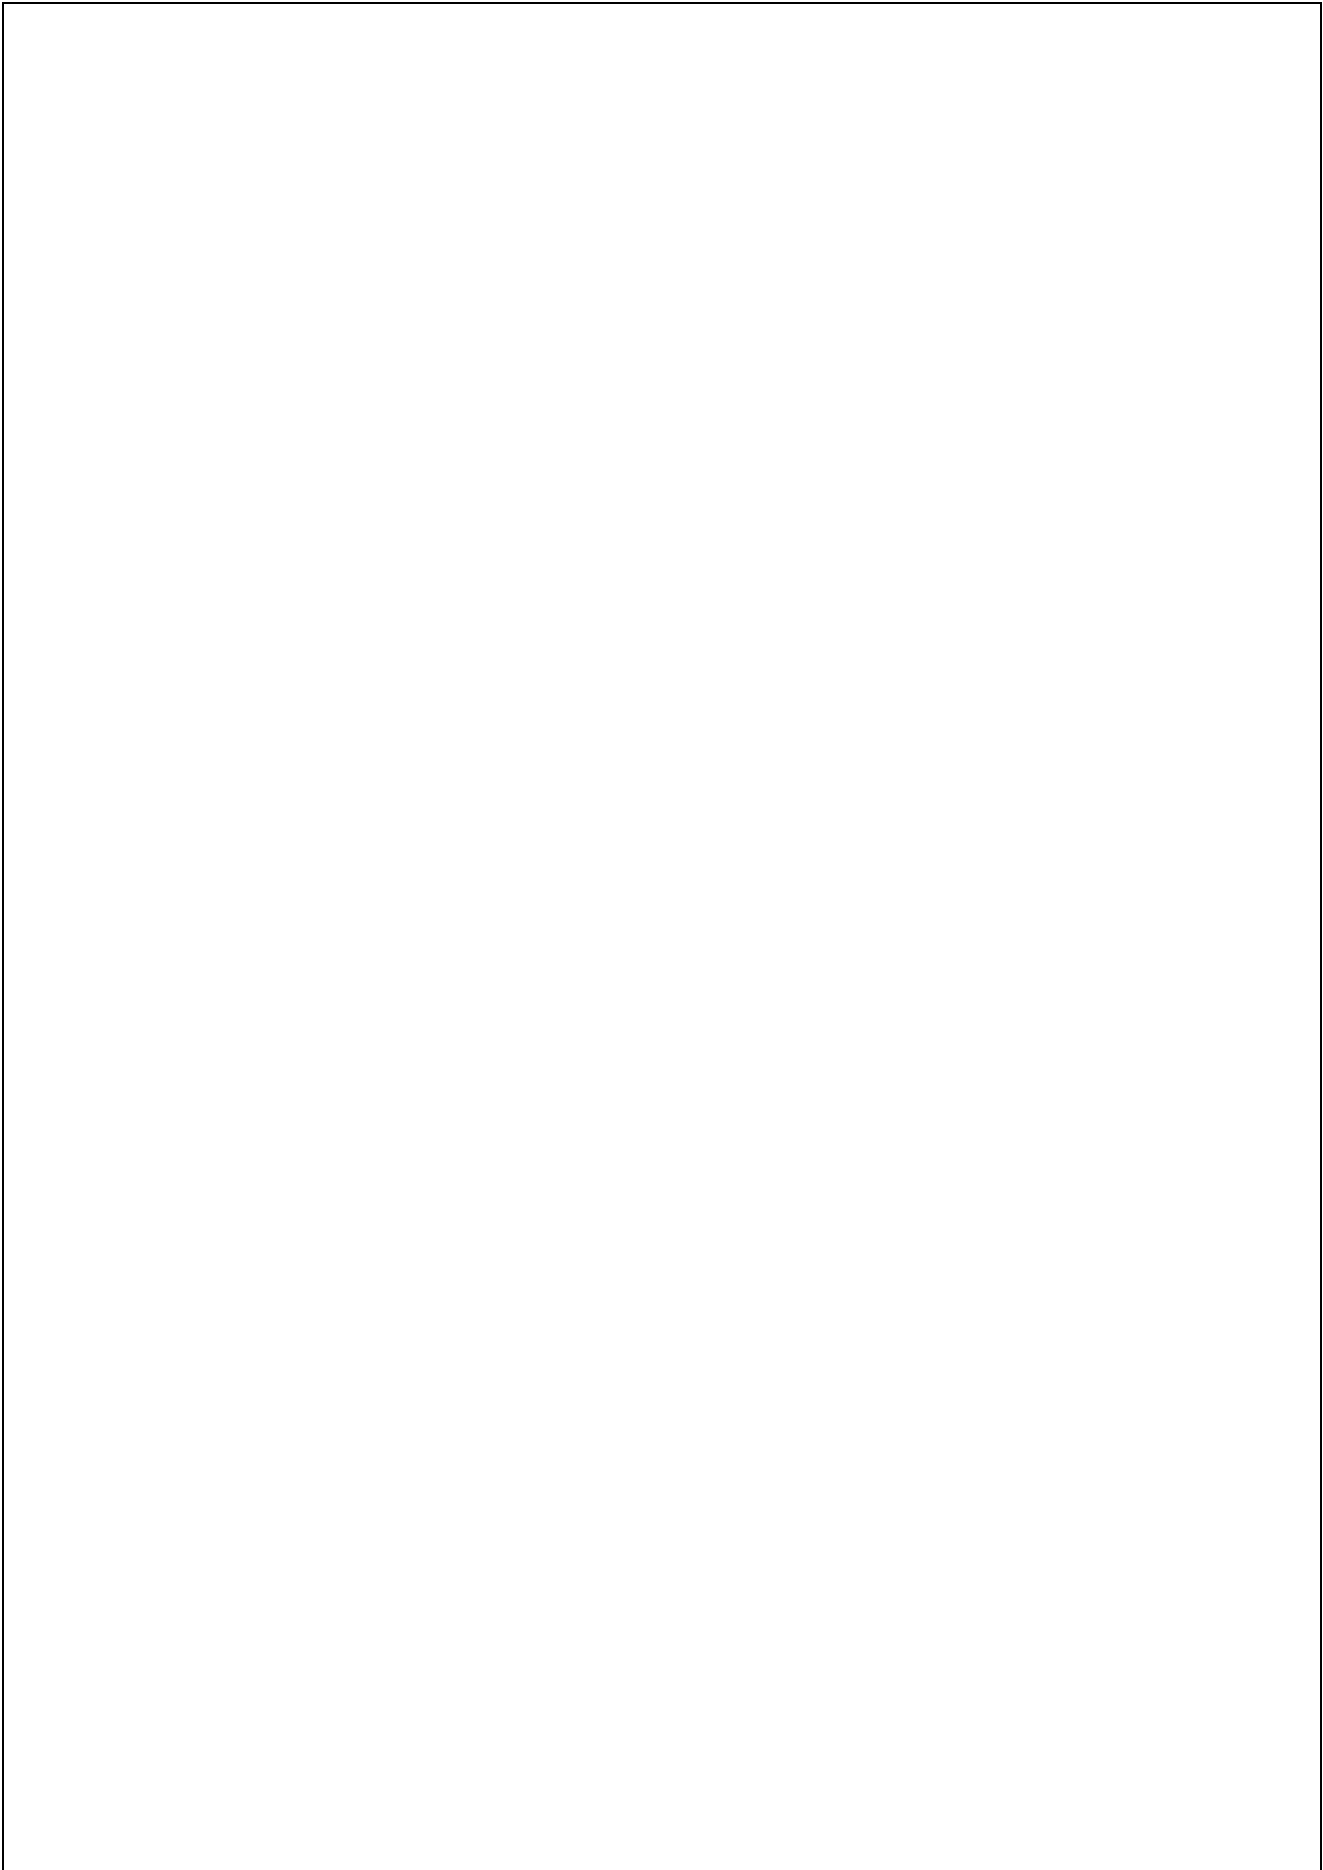

A Lost Parable

A Story of Love and Healing

As Told by The Council
in the Trances of William Allen LePar

He heard a rustling of wings; and as he looked up he saw a dove bringing a book.

A Lost Parable

At this particular time we feel that it would be appropriate to tell you a story that would be of great help to all of you. But as it is with stories and bits of wisdom, they can either be of great help or they can be a great hindrance depending solely on how each of you accept what is given. The greatest gift from our Father can be a great help to you if you use it as such, or it can be a great hindrance to you, if you choose. We offer this story to you in hopes that you pay close attention to what is being said beyond the words, and use those unspoken words as a source of enlightenment to each of you, and as a source of stimulation to help you to come to grips with your own weaknesses and your own strengths and to use those in the service of our God and our Lord.

The beginning of this story is set beyond your time and beyond your understanding, and it is set in the past. Yet even though its beginning lies back before man's knowledge, before man's awareness, before man's history, it does not blossom until late in man's time. In late of that day in man's time there came to that time a young man searching for his place. One morning as he arose from his bed, he looked at the darkened sky, and he waited patiently for the first rays of the dawning light to break across his window; and as he sat on the edge of his bed and looked out at the sky, the first rays of dawn broke; and the cock on the garden wall crowed; and so he dressed, left his chamber, went to his garden, and sat himself down. He looked round and about the garden, and he enjoyed the beauty of the flowers and the trees laden with fruit; and he looked at himself and he said, "Surely, there is more that I can do." Yet he looked around and saw nothing else that need be tended to. It yet was very early in the morning.

The village below had not yet begun to stir, and he sat at his table, and he began to pray, hoping that he could be of greater service, that some of the beauty that lay within the garden walls could be shared with others, but how could something like this be done? And as he sat there in silence, he heard a rustling of wings; and as he looked up he saw a dove bringing a book. The dove set the book down on the table. He opened the book and began to read, and he realized immediately that it was a book of great wisdom and great truth. He read further and further, and his heart was uplifted. The book spoke very personally to him, very loudly, and the book said, "Stop here at this page and do what you have read." He opened the garden gate, and he sat at his table, and he waited.